Topic: Care Management - What is this, and how could it help me?

Learn what care management is and how you might benefit from a care manager's services. Care managers work with individuals and families to create a positive aging experience. This presentation will acquaint the listeners with the functions of the Care Manager, what care management is, and how we can help you remain in your home.

Topic: You Are Not Alone - Family Caregiver Program

Many of us are caregivers before we realize that's what we are doing. Things happen, and before we know it, we are providing care to our loved ones who rely heavily upon us. This program will help caregivers better understand their positions, what services are available to help them, and how to take care of themselves during this time.

Topic: Aging in Place

My home – why would I want to leave it? How can I stay here? Care Connection Care Managers can help you assess your situation – home and financial – and suggest options that help increase the reality of aging in place. They can help you think practically, suggest resources, and help whittle down the looming fear of moving.

Topic: Feel Good Bingo

Everyone enjoys a good game of BINGO. Why not learn while playing? Feel Good Bingo is an interactive game of BINGO that focuses on depression and the signs and symptoms. Pictures are used in place of numbers to give visual cues and relevant information on depression to the players. Players will gain a better understanding of depression and how to recognize the signs.

Topic: Benefits Bingo

Learn about many benefits that are available to help seniors stretch their monthly income while playing this interactive Bingo game.

Topic: Why did I walk into this room? Where did I leave my keys?

Ever experience a “senior moment”? Most of the time we play those “senior moments” off as forgetfulness, but sometimes those moments can be leading up a serious problem. Memory Screening is a confidential memory screening to anyone concerned about memory loss or experiencing warning signs of dementia. Screenings are often the first step to finding out if someone may have a memory problem. A series of questions are asked in a private setting and are used as an indicator of whether a person might benefit from an extensive medical exam, but are not used to diagnose any illness. Education and encouragement are given to follow up with a medical provider.

Topic: Help! I’ve fallen, and I can’t get up. Let BOB Help.

We have all heard that phrase, and some of us have actually said it. That’s where BOB comes in to help. Care Connection offers a variety of medical alert devices that can help in any type of situation – whether you have fallen, are locked out of the house, have forgotten to take medications, or even are experiencing loneliness. Learn what all BOB can do to help give you and your loved ones peace of mind while living independently at home.

Topic: Five Wishes for the Future

Five Wishes is the first living will that talks about your personal, emotional and spiritual needs as well as your medical wishes. Learn what the Five Wishes are and how you can personalize them to meet your wishes when you are no longer capable of making decisions but want to direct your care.

increased through their volunteer service. Come join us in this fun, interactive presentation, where you will be shown the benefits of volunteering. Not only will you leave with a healthier outlook on volunteering, but you will also be given opportunities to volunteer in your own community.

Topic: Volunteers and the Big Picture

While working with volunteers, it may seem like you get less done, or the bows aren't tied just like you would have tied them, the boy scouts just tracked in mud all over your recently shampooed carpet, or the food is not delivered in the order you wrote down. While all of these things can and will happen, without these volunteers the big picture does not take place. We will share with you a few helpful ideas to help manage volunteers, appreciate them, gain new volunteers and retain the volunteers you have.
